Suggestions for Improvement:	It is always a challenge to differentiate for every learner. You have shown great strides in taking on this task and it is showing in your students' improvement. Continue to look for ways to use different assessment methods based on the learning objective. Reflecting on your instruction is always a must. You have shown excellent improvement by adapting your lessons based on how you noticed student learning prior. Continue to take the time to reflect in your mind or through journaling as you continue your educational journey. This will improve student learning and relationship-building.

Suggestions for Improvement:	Don't be afraid to set up small groups or one-to-one instruction time within your lessons. This is a very challenging task as schedules are usually on a strict time frame in teaching. Any way you can incorporate or adapt to individual or small group needs will benefit students of all abilities.

General Comments:	Haley has shown tremendous improvement throughout her second Practicum II experience. Many times, she has taken initiative to even go with the students to music, phy ed, and recess. The students love when she is present with them at these times and they show more respect and caring for her because of this. Haley is ready to start her student teaching next fall in my opinion. I believe she has seen that her hard work and initiative for student learning will pay off in the long run when she becomes a teacher. Great work Haley! We will miss you, Mr. Larson
